Owner-administered Contracting Opportunities

OFCC is available to manage capital improvement projects for any state agency, including any board, commission, college, university or others as requested. When OFCC manages a project on behalf of an Owner, the Owner or defined set of user is the client of OFCC, and OFCC acts as the Contracting Authority.

However, under certain circumstances, some capital improvement projects are locally administered by the state agency or institution of higher education. In these cases, the Owner is considered the Contracting Authority.

Below are links to contracting opportunities for Owners locally administering some or all of their capital improvement projects.
